Local Driver Escapes From Truck Plunge

A Hagerstown tractor-trailer driver walked from the scene of an accident early Thursday virtually unhurt as the rig he was operating failed to make the last curve coming off Braddock Mountain on Route 40 west of Frederick and plunged down a 40-foot embankment.

State Police said Woodrow W. Titus, Hagerstown, walked from the scene of the accident at 2:45 a. m. Thursday to a nearby business establishment to call for assistance.

The tractor-trailer jack-knifed and landed with the tractor part of the rig lying wrecked under the trailer. The tractor was considered a total loss but there was little damage reported to the trailer.

Luckily, the tanker was not loaded with combustible materials.

Trooper William L. Newcomer who investigated the accident for State Police, said Titus has been charged with operating at a speed greater than reasonable and proper.
